Speaker Biography: Attention to detail is what has made Brian Stollery one of Western Canada's most sought after corporate comedians. Brian's self-effacing humor, clever word play, and witty commentary on current events, continues to delight audiences wherever he performs. His performance has been called "energetic, clean-cut and instantly appealing". When you book Brian Stollery, you won't just get another comedian doing a canned act. You will get a one-on-one consultation with Mr. Stollery where he will take the time and make the effort to find out about your event. Mr. Stollery will then write comedy material specific for your function, always careful to never offend or embarrass. The result, is a "very entertaining, personalized, extremely funny show".
